The Victor Albeck Award

The Victor Albeck Award, which was conferred for the first time in 2021, is named after Victor Albeck, who was a decisive driving force behind the establishment of university education in Aarhus. The award goes to a promising early-career researcher who is employed by or associated with Aarhus University, and who has produced significant achievements which show great promise. The award includes a cash prize of DKK 100,000.

The Aarhus University Research Foundation PhD Award

Every year, the Aarhus University Research Foundation presents PhD awards to promising young researchers who were earned their PhD degrees at Aarhus University the previous year. At the university's 75th anniversary in 2003, the first five PhDs received the award in recognition of their research achievements, and since then the award ceremony has been an annual event. The award includes a cash prize of DKK 50,000.
